Foreign & International Law Resources Database

THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE ONLINE DATABASE FOR THE INTERNATIONAL LAW RESEARCHER!

As international law continues to play a prominent role in the legal arena, access to an online database to assist in researching the evolution of this important area is essential. HeinOnline has closed the gap in the void of online access to important international law research documents!

In addition, the current dilemma facing international law researchers today—the inability to easily search across multiple international law titles in print format—is now an afterthought with the availability of HeinOnline's Foreign and International Law Resources Database (FILRD).

With HeinOnline's FILRD, researchers are able to easily search or browse online through the treasures of some of the world's best international law titles, from the in-depth coverage of publications of the American Society of International Law and prominent yearbooks from around the world to the Hague Permanent Court of International Justice series and the publications of dozens of other highly-respected publishers. Altogether, this library contains more than 5,600 titles and 3 million pages.

As with other HeinOnline content, the Foreign and International Law Resources Database contains documents from inception in an image-based PDF and fully-searchable format. This ensures authenticity of the original document, saving research time and enhancing the value of this database to the legal community.

Presented in eight parts:

- Part I: International Yearbooks and Periodicals
